

Global and Popular Music Experience

For students entering grades 9–12 in the 2021–2022 school year
Prior musical experience not required

Select Saturdays • 9 a.m. – 12 p.m.
August 2021 – March 2022

The Global and Popular Music Experience is a NEW outreach program offered by the School of Music at The Ohio State University.

The program offers an opportunity for high school students to experience music-making and learning within global and popular traditions. Under the guidance of expert teachers and Ohio State student leaders, participants will play in a steel band, participate in either an Andean music ensemble or African drum ensemble, and explore hip-hop or rock/pop/eclectic styles in an encouraging, fun and interactive environment.

In addition to performing and creating, students will also learn about the rich cultural contexts related to the music they play. Students will also participate in performances that are free and open to the public.

This program is designed for students with various levels of musical experience and background — prior music study is not required, but certainly welcome. We gladly accept both beginners and skilled musicians.
