GLOBAL ARTS + HUMANITIES DISCOVERY THEME

IMAGINED FUTURES
FACULTY FELLOW

DEADLINE
March 15, 2025

Global Arts + Humanities Faculty Fellows act as thought partners and advocates, ensuring the advancement of GAHDT's mission and goals. GAHDT seeks to hire a faculty fellow for 2024-2025 who will help Imagined Futures develop resources that empower graduate students and their mentors to imagine and pursue diverse career paths and build collaborations that change the conversation around graduate career outcomes. The Imagined Futures Faculty Fellow will work with the director of the initiative, Professor Danielle Fosler-Lussier.

QUALIFICATIONS

The faculty fellow must be a tenured faculty member on the Columbus campus who has demonstrated interest in graduate students' professional development; whose skills are grounded in artistic, humanistic and/or collaborative inquiry; and who is eager to develop cooperative relationships across institutional divides. Preference will be given to individuals with experience in graduate mentoring, curriculum development and/or institutional change initiatives.

TERMS OF APPOINTMENT

Faculty fellows will receive a one-course buyout equivalent to 12% base salary and benefits and summer funding equivalent to an additional ninth of their base salary. GAHDT will transfer these funds to the faculty member's TIU. TIU heads will work with the faculty member to reduce service responsibilities in accordance with college guidelines and in line with unit needs. Faculty fellows will be appointed to a nine-month term anticipated to start no later than August 15, 2025 and are expected to be on duty on campus for the duration of the 2025-26 academic year. The position includes a one-year membership in the Graduate Career Consortium and funding to attend the Consortium's annual conference (June 2025).

SCOPE OF APPOINTMENT

Working with the faculty director and GAHDT Advisory Committee, faculty fellows are responsible for a variety of academic, administrative and outreach duties including:

+ Advising Imagined Futures and GAHDT leadership on priorities for advancing cross-disciplinary arts and humanities initiatives, including review of Career Allies Academy applications.
+ Co-facilitate meetings of the Career Allies Academy over the course of the academic year.
+ Support units in the adoption of best practices in reporting graduate program outcomes.
+ Communicate with faculty, directors of graduate studies, staff and other stakeholders to offer resources for program development.
+ Participate in online and regional professional development opportunities of the Graduate Career Consortium and share this knowledge with others on our campus.
